Music Director: Dr Stephen Bullamore

Stephen is an accomplished choral director, music editor and organist. In addition to his work with the Leicester Philharmonic Choir, he is Director of Music at St Mary Magdalene, Newark, Musical Director of the North Herts Guild of Singers and General Editor of Music 18.

Stephen started his musical life as a chorister at York Minster. He studied as an undergraduate at Keble College, Oxford as Organ Scholar, where with the chapel choir he recorded a number of CDs, including part of Priory Records' Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis series and broadcast live on BBC radio.

In conjunction with his post at Keble, Stephen was Organist and Director of Music at St Mark's, Swindon. Post-graduate study at Goldsmiths resulted in the degree of MMus in Historical Musicology, gained with Distinction. His PhD study of the Sacred Music of John Weldon was undertaken at Bangor University where he spent some time as a graduate teaching assistant.

As an international examiner for the ABRSM, Stephen has travelled all around the UK and abroad listening to candidates in a wide variety of disciplines. Outside of work, Stephen enjoys baking, watching cricket, travel and walking the dog.
